

Islamic Business Ethics Course

Islam has its own comprehensive and distinctive value-based ethical system for business dealings. It prescribes specific guidelines for governing business ethics.

The dictates of the Qur'an and the teachings of the Prophet pbhu serve to provide the basis to distinguish between the lawful and the unlawful means of earning, and to prohibit or disapprove of all things that are either morally wrong or socially unacceptable.

According to At-Tirmidhi on the authority of Abu Sa'id al-Khudri the Prophet pbuh said: "An honest and trustworthy merchant (in the world hereafter) will be with the Prophets, the truthful and the martyrs."

This course will expand on what the Prophet pbuh meant by this

Who is this course for:

Muslim Business Owners/Managers or those who wish to know more about this subject

Topics covered will include:

- Business Ethics in Islam
- The rewards and benefit in being in business
- Islamic Tenets Concerning Business Transactions
- Sources of income permissible in Islam
- Sources of income prohibited in Islam
- Trustworthiness in Business Transactions
- Honouring business obligations
- Fair Treatment of Workers
- Dealing in Prohibited Items
- Hoarding of Foodstuff
- Fraud in Business Transactions
- Giving Short Measures
- Dealing in Stolen Goods
- Brief overview of Islamic Finance

The course is delivered by:
Brother Kaushar Tai, Director Aksaa

www.aksaa.co.uk