

Diversity Training

Valuing Diversity is about valuing differences and focuses on the positive aspects of the differences between people; be it colour, creed, ethnicity, disability, age, gender, religion etc.

We need to create a culture that truly values the diversity of its people, includes them, listens to them and uses their unique qualities and provides opportunities for them to achieve their potential.

Ensuring your staff knows their responsibilities towards equality and diversity in the workplace helps to embed a culture where staff are free from discrimination, bullying and harassment.

This course sets out to develop your understanding of diversity and the possible consequences of ignoring the issue, and in particular to help your awareness in this important area.

Who should attend?

This course is ideal for all organisations wishing to raise their awareness of Equality and Diversity and to ensure everyone is treated with the dignity and respect they deserve.

Aksaa can work with you to design and deliver training programmes which are tailor-made to your requirements.

The fee is £150 plus VAT per delegate or £1500 plus VAT plus expenses, for up to 20 delegates for an in-house course.

Course objective

By the end of the course, participants will be able to:

- Promote a culture which, values peoples' difference, and which challenges any threat to an individual's dignity and well-being.
- Define diversity, bullying and harassment and understand the effect on victims of such behaviour.
- State your role in challenging inappropriate behaviour and the impact you can have on changing the culture.
- To recognise how unacceptable and damaging any sort of prejudice or discrimination is (which will include discrimination around race, gender, disability, age, sexual orientation and religion and belief)
